

Theresa starts the year with a bang!

With two anthologies and a new director position with an indie publishing house, there's no stopping this woman!

She's even editing a book about Potatoes - yes, potatoes! Must be her Irish origins that makes her want to produce this and dedicate it to her Dad Paddy!

THE NATURAL SELECTION

TAFF

Erm . . . hello? I hereby declare my candidacy for the 2013 TAFF race. Why? Because I'm sensible, solid, reliable, a natural ambassador, and more importantly - a woman (heh)! I believe in promoting gender parity and I also believe I am a positive representative for female fans. Don't let the beard fool you - that's just a cheap trick to make people think I'm a bloke long enough to vote! Please take me with a pinch of salt.
