News and Notes ................................................................. Christopher J. Garcia .................................................................................................................. 2
Letters Of Comment ......................................................... Jean Martin ........................................................................................................................................ 3-6
Editorial ................................................................................ Christopher J. Garcia ................................................................................................................ 7
Dreams of the City ............................................................. Column by Espana Sheriff ................................................................................................................... 8-9
Comic-Con: The Mother of All Cons ......................... Dr. Noe .................................................................................. Photos by Dr. Noe ............................................................................................................................................... 10-15
If You’re Going to San Francisco ...................................... Cheryl Morgan ........................................................................................................................................ 16-17
BASFA Minutes: meeting 836 ................................................ .......................................................................................................................... 18
BASFA Minutes: meeting 837 ................................................ .......................................................................................................................... 19
Bay Area Fannish Calendar .................................................. David Moyce ........................................................................................................................................ 20-33

SF/SF has new features! Click anywhere on the TOC to go directly to that title. Click on a blue button at the bottom of a page and return to the TOC.
The Drink Tank Gets it Right?

Last year, I ran a hoax campaign for the Mayorship of San Jose on the platform that we should rebuild the giant light tower that stood over the intersection of Market and Santa Clara Streets. This was meant as a universal joke, but now the San Jose Mercury News reports on 1stACT Silicon Valley and their plans to revitalize Downtown San Jose. There’s a lot of typical stuff about prettifying Downtown and having gates, but they also mention that they want to rebuild a light tower!

A letter has been written to the folks at 1stACT San Jose suggesting that they should name the tower after The Drink Tank, but no response has been received.

WorldCon BArea Panelists

If you’re a BArea fan and you’re interested in seeing some of the BArea’s most interesting fen being interesting, then you make sure to check out the various WorldCon panels and programs (not to mention parties) that folks will be on. Here are some random highlights:

Blogs and eFanzines on Wednesday the 23rd at 2:30 will feature Bay Area fans Chris Garcia, Lisa Deutsche Harrigan and SF/SF contributor Andy Trembley as well as Patrick Neilsen Hayden and Irish fan (and former Taff winner) James Bacon.

Preserving Your Collection will feature another SF/SFer, Robert Hole, along with Chris Garcia plus Joe Siclary and Fred Lerner. That panel will talk about the best ways to keep your comics, fanzines and other items safe for a long time. It’ll happen Wednesday at 4 p.m.

I Was Promised Flying Cars will feature the ubiquitous Chris Garcia, BArea SF writer G. David Nordley and former local guy (and Laurence Livermore National Labs employee) Jordin Kare. Should be a fun panel on Thursday at 5:30.

Garcia and Trembley team up again and are aided by SF fan Lenny Bailes as well as Challenger editor Guy Lillian III and LA fan Chaz Boston-Baden for Why Do People Write For Fanzines. It’s an interesting panel topic and should bring out some fine discussion. It’s on Saturday at 1 p.m.

The Match Game will return — twice! Kevin Standlee has put together a BArea-heavy roster of folks for two versions of the game. Lynn Gold, Leigh-Ann Hildebrandt, Andy Trembley, Chris Garcia, Kevin Roche, Tom Galloway and the inimitable Len Wein will all be there doing a daytime version, and the Late Night version will get a little blue following the Hugo Awards on Saturday.

And though not strictly a BArea affair, local fave and writer-genius Jay Lake will be roasted on Saturday morning at 10 a.m. Who knows what’s gonna happen as many of his friends on the panel skewer him alive.

Fanzines Published

eFanzines.com has seemed a little slower than usual lately, partly due to Arnie Katz having computer issues that have resulted in no Vegas Fandom Weekly issue being released since the one that came out on July 23rd. A flurry of action that started on August 1st has seen the release of Earl Kemp’s el #27, Shelbe Vick’s ConfuSon, John Purcell’s and furthermore… #12 and The Drink Tank #92.

Other zines are likely to start to roll out with WorldCon just around the corner. Traditionally there’s a flood of zines right before and right after Con and this year looks to be no exception.
Peter Sullivan writes:

Firstly, congratulations on the first anniversary. I suspect that a fanzine like SF/SF has quite a bit of an “iceberg” effect, in that much of the work involved isn’t visible. For a typical, single-editor fanzine, basically whatever they type appears in the fanzine. But with SF/SF, there’s a lot more work finding out about events to cover, getting people to write about them, and then bringing the whole thing together at the end.

Jean Martin responds: Yes, there’s a lot of work behind each issue of SF/SF. It’s amazing though how everyone just does their job on schedule and we all pull together to get this show on the road. Really quite like clockwork. I’m in awe that we get so many people to do this with us for free! I think we all just love to be part of something bigger and express our thoughts and creativity. As I’ve mentioned before, SF/SF provides that and we’d love to have more people on board.

Sad news about Emerald City, but if Cheryl’s no longer enjoying it, then she’s right to call it a day. I must admit that I’ve never been a great reader of the Emerald City fanzine itself, but I’ve found the weblog very useful in keeping up to date on SF and writers’ issues generally.

Interesting editorial by Jean. I must admit that, over the past month or so, I have been consciously avoiding the news as much as possible, which for a news junkie like me is quite a turnaround. I think that Jean’s right to say that keeping up more “normal” activities like fandom is even more important in such times. At city-level, nationally and internationally, fandom helps keep us connected to other people, and helps us to realise that they are, fundamentally, just like us – even down to a shared interest in “that crazy Buck Rogers stuff.”

I knew my editorial would be a little controversial. But since I’m provided with a bully pulpit, I might as well make use of it! That’s a good point that I didn’t think of or I would have included it in my editorial. That people in fandom reach across continents and connect people of all races, religions, social standings, etc. It’s quite a testament to the fact that we’re all just human beings and we all have something in common if we look deep enough. So there’s no reason why we shouldn’t all get along.

John Purcell writes:

To break with the traditional format of “loc the zine from the front to back,” allow me to jump straight into commenting on Jean’s editorial.

Yes, Jean, we all live in our own little cocoons, protected from the madness swirling around us, and sometimes it is very difficult to want to come out to get the necessities of life performed. To try to bring joy and laughter into the world is a noble goal; to desire nothing but to immerse one’s self in that joy and laughter is detrimental to one’s sanity. One cannot know joy without pain, one cannot laugh without crying sometimes. It is unfortunate that the yins and yangs of life are quite often out of balance, but it is precisely that balance which we must strive to achieve.

Jean responds: Wow, I get our three regular LOC writers responding all at the same time to our Issue 27 and you all have something to say about my editorial. I’m quite flattered! It’s good it’s my turn to respond to LOCs this issue.

Well, I’m not advocating burying our heads in the sand like ostriches and ignoring what’s going on in the outside world. I keep a pretty good balance between my fandom life and my real life. That’s why I prefer not to date someone in the scene and my job keeps me sane most days because it brings me back down to earth. I’m also no stranger to depression, anxiety, loss and pain in my own personal life. We all have our own challenges that we face on a daily basis. Darkness comes to each of us soon enough so that’s why I’m a big proponent of making sure to follow the light as much as I can.

Discovering fandom three years ago actually was my saving grace and enabled me to make a huge transformation in my life for the better. What I’m not interested in personally is wallowing in all the blow-by-blow detail of the miseries in the world that the news media feeds the mainstream populace. It’s unproductive and makes some negative, fearful and angry at other people. Some people also use it as an excuse not to do anything with their lives because they don’t see any hope for the world. Just my two cents.

So what exactly am I getting at here, Jean? Just this: by all means, spread as much joy as you humanly can, but don’t forget about that “dark side.” I for one enjoy the things you and your cohorts write about in SF/SF; it is definitely fun and an enjoyable diversion. We all need this from time to time. That’s why right now I’m writing this loc after the evening class I just taught; it’s helping my mind shift into a lower gear to start unwinding from leading my students through Book 9 of Paradise Lost. No wonder my eyes are itching!

Anyway. A long way to go to say, “keep it up.” Like I said, I enjoy your zine. Thanks for the support and compliments. I do think though that fanzines like SF/SF are not just diversions but keep a sense of community and also serve as a venue for the people involved in it to do something productive with their time, talent and energies.

Too bad about Cheryl’s announcement. Emerald City is a wonderful webzine. Someone somewhere will pick up the slack. My guess is Some Fantastic, which happens to be another wonderful zine.

I do hope all of you West Coast fen have a good time at the Worldcon. Sure wish I could go. In fact, I doubt if I’ll ever be able to attend another Worldcon since it is held over Labor Day Weekend. That corresponds with the first week of classes at most colleges and universities, and in my mind, my obligation is to my students first and Worldcon second. Don’t get me wrong; I love fandom and cons. But unless the Worldcon comes back to Texas, it is highly unlikely anyone will ever see me at one of these again.

Well, let’s just hope Worldcon shows up in your neighborhood sometime soon. I won’t be able to go as well and it’s in L.A. I know, I know, it’s not too far from me but my domestic life won’t allow for it either. I’m probably going to regret not going, just like I regret not going to Comic-Con. Wow, was that a mistake. I can’t say I regret very many things in my life but missing panels with David Wenham (LOTR), Lucy Lawless (Xena and BSG) and Gerard Butler (Phantom of the Opera and Lara Croft) is something I will have a hard time getting over!

Sub lots and lots and lots of pictures!! That will ease the pain of my academic solitude.

Glad you like our photos. I’m such a photo buff and I truly believe that a picture is worth a thousand words. It took me awhile to switch to digital photography but once the picture quality came up to par with film photography, I became a huge fan. I develop hundreds of photos a month! And it’s so convenient to email and/or upload them to friends. Of course, it makes Eva’s layouting job easier.

That and the Worldcon report Lloyd Penney’s gonna write for my zine. I’m preparing a Not-Worldcon report. You Have Been Warned!

Espana Sheriff gave us all a nice little bit on San Fran. And I really have to wrap this up, but I must ask a simple question about that Romantic Poetry reading on the Lake: don’t you mean a “recitation of Keats” instead of “Yeats”? You’re talking a hundred year’s difference and a whole ‘nuther poetic era. Please say this was a misprint…

You know what, I was there and I can’t remember if it was Keats or Yeats. I think it was Keats, though. Our Regency events are not very particular about periods. I think someone recited some Shakespeare sonnets and someone had their own poetry, which would be considered modern. It was more just a venue for people to enjoy poetry.

All for now. Enjoyed it very much.

Lloyd Penney writes:

Chris can tell you that I must be terribly caught up if I am not doing multi-issue letters of comment. Either there’s a lull in fanzine production, or people are getting ready for Worldcon or Dragoncon. Here’s some quick comments on issue 27 of SF/SF.

Hey, Chris, congratulations on your film award! Good to see that your writing skills are being recognized. It is always great to get a little recognition for your efforts. I agree with John Purcell on the staying power of the zine…it is difficult to establish a stable of good and reliable writers, and you’ve been able to do this, to the benefit of BArea fandom. I hope they appreciate this.

Jean responds: Yes, Chris. Congratulations! I hope Bay Area fandom appreciates it as well. I’m constantly rounding up people to write for us. We have our regulars but most people come and go. Some come back after a break. We’re all busy with our own lives. So, yes, we do have to continually recruit people to write.

My loc…I relayed this to you, Chris, in a loc to The Drink Tank, but for the rest…I found there’s a chain of clothing stores called The Hollister Clothing Co., and there are stores all over Toronto, including a major mall to the south of us. That’s why there are shirts everywhere that say Hollister on them. I still haven’t heard anything about the Tolkien event here…I know that Ed Meskys was involved in Tolkien fandom many years ago, but he was not involved with this convention.

I met lots and lots of Canadians in Mazatlan over the last Christmas holidays (they were all flying south for the winter). Anyway, one of them was wearing a Hollister shirt, which I’ve never heard of before then. So I guess that’s popular in Canada! It was so funny, though, because Hollister means something completely different to us Bay Area folks.

A shame about Emerald City. I know Cheryl is very angry with many fans right now as they have spread rumours about her making money off favorable reviews, which is completely false. I don’t think she’ll ever write for a fanzine or any other kind of zine again after this mess. Also, she’s had to make the decision to find more income, and the zine had to be sacrificed to free up more time.

That’s such a shame. I don’t understand why some people have to ruin a good thing that other people are doing. Usually a result of envy I think. I completely empathize with Cheryl. People used to say nasty things about me when I used to publish my heavy metal magazine in the early 1990s. That I was a groupie, etc., etc. I thought people in fandom were less like that but I guess there are always bad eggs in every community. For the most part though, knock on wood, we’ve been getting nothing but good feedback from people.

That’s right, Jean, follow your bliss. We’ve all had to endure too much criticism for what we enjoy, and the way we enjoy it. That comes from family, friends and other fans, and it’s not fair to anyone. Somehow, their interests are “normal,” while ours are “weird.”

I made a friend from England during my New Zealand trip and she said that most people where she comes from think she’s weird and she felt so blessed to be in a company of people that appreciated and even celebrated her. I’m sure we’ve all been labeled for our interests and so we should all support each other and stand proud.

Given that LAcon IV is in late August, are there any fannish expeditions planned to go see The Burning Man festival? There was a documentary broadcast on the CBC a short time ago about a Vancouver couple, both performance artists, who packed up their van and drove down to Nevada to perform at Burning Man. I’ve heard there’s expeditions out to Burning Man just to see the performers and naked people. I keep seeing jackalopes in popular culture…Pixar made a great short cartoon with a jackalope as the main character, and the jackalope is the school mascot at Atomic Betty’s high school. There’s the phrase that sums it all up, and makes so many people interested in Burning Man, and fandom, too…delightful absurdity. Maybe fandom needs a similar expedition out to Nevada to do all the delightfully absurd things fans like to do. I think the Las Vegas Westercon will be subtitled Burning Fan…

_Burning Fan, that’s hilarious. Yes, I’m headed to Burning Man barring any unforeseen circumstances. My home life is a little bit chaotic at the moment but I got my ticket the first day they started selling, so I’ve been looking forward to this for a while now. I won’t be with a big theme camp this year so I’ll have more time to explore the delightfully absurd things that you’ll only see at Burning Man._

Time to go and get this sent out and archived. The LAcon website says there’s 14 days left until the convention, and Yvonne and I are leaving for LA in 11 days. We’ll party with you real soon now!

Yours, Lloyd Penney

Wow, that’s coming up real soon. Have fun at LAcon and we look forward to hearing about your adventures there.

---

Join our crew:

We are looking for writers to cover local events, conventions, fan groups and the fannish scene in general.

Contact Jean Martin and Chris Garcia at:

SFinSF@gmail.com
It’s a busy time to be a fan, one full of so much action and adventure that you kinda have to take a breath every now and again to get yourself centered. For the last two weeks, I’ve been working on preparations for WorldCon. I’ve got zines to print, panels to get ready for and ribbons to pass out, not to mention securing a car to drive down to Anaheim in, hotels to deal with and so on.. It’s gonna be a big deal week for me.

Besides WorldCon, there are the starting rumblings of making WesterCon 2007 happen. With the move to a new hotel added to the fact that a large number of today’s fans weren’t around the last time there was a BA WesterCon, they’ve got the task of re-educating us as to why we should go to a BayCon-sized convention just a few weeks after BayCon. There’s a very good reason in my eyes: Jay Lake is Toastmaster and that’s going to be loads of fun. We’ll be hearing a lot more about WesterCon and the San Mateo Marriott as we go along. They had their first staff picnic and it looks like a plan is starting to come together.

Cheryl Morgan’s announcement that Emerald City is closing up shop, which we managed to mention in the last issue, has caused quite a stir. There’ve always been differing opinions about EmCit, and of course Cheryl herself, but most of the commentary on the closure has been of the “hate to see it go” variety. Personally, it was one of the first zines I regularly read when I finally got back into fandom. Thankfully, Cheryl said that we could reprint one of her early Emerald City articles and you’ll find it later in this issue.

And on top of that, there’s Hollister in 2008, which seems to have all the momentum of a runaway train. The planning stages for the big WorldCon party are now nearing completion and the full six-issue eBound set of Pacheco Progress Regress Reports is available on eFanzines.com. There’s some fun comedy in the last couple of issues… not to mention many glorious typos!

In addition to that, SF/SF will be a part of the big August 20th Shriek event at 12 Galaxies. [See Calendar section for details.] Jeff Vandermeer’s film will be shown, The Church will be there, and a good time will be had by all. I’m excited that we’ve been asked to be a part of the event and I’m sure a few of our staff will be on hand for the fun.

And there’s so much more. SF/SF will have full coverage of everything that happens because that’s what we do around these parts!
My favorite book about San Francisco is also one of my favorite SF books. In The City Not Long After, Pat Murphy uses the city as a setting for a post-apocalyptic tale, and it’s hard to imagine the tale taking place anywhere else.

The story opens in a San Francisco populated by a loose community of misfits and artists. Those who stayed in or came to the city after a plague wiped out most of humanity seem to be those who least would have noticed something like the total collapse of Western civilization, or perhaps those who would least have regretted its passing. Art and dreaming are their prime motivators. Art projects from small (a message in a bottle) to huge (painting the Golden Gate Bridge blue) give their lives meaning. They are a mixed lot: hippies, bookworms, anarchists, freethinkers and even a man who believes he is a machine.

Into this world comes a literally nameless girl who doesn’t quite know what to make of them. Are they decadent doomed remnants of an earlier, even more decadent society? Blessed fools? Visionaries? Whatever they may be, Jax, as she is eventually named, has come to them with a warning: an army is on the march from Sacramento (natch) attempting to reunite the state and ultimately reestablish the old United States. Its leader, General “Fourstar” Miles, represents law and order. But the people of San Francisco are happy with their anarchy and chaos. Manifest Destiny on his side, Fourstar marches into the city expecting only token resistance.

Thus the artists of San Francisco have to decide what to do when his army arrives. It’s a small army, but they are an even smaller group of defenders. Beyond the practical are the deeper issues of morality. Is self-defense and preservation enough to justify violence? How far are they willing to go? And in a war of values, is there any justification in adopting your opponent’s viewpoint in order to preserve your own? At the core of the book is the power of art to transform and the responsibility of artists to change the world with their art. In this case, the artists opt for guerilla warfare on their own terms using their own rules.

The book is obviously on the side of the artists… but if it agrees with their ideals it does not idealize them as people. They are a chaotic disorganized group, at times incomprehensible. That is the point.

This story could have easily devolved into platitudes and nonsense, but the arguments are valid and the consequences of sticking (or not) to your ethical code are worth exploring. The soldiers are not cold killing machines nor are the artists wide-eyed innocents. Living up to your own ideals is difficult, not everyone succeeds, but the attempt must be made all the same.

The city itself plays an active role. Ghosts inhabit the streets; fogs and magics fill the air. Even before the invaders arrive the artists live with these apparitions and wonders in their daily existence. This lends the proceedings a mythical and mystical flavor. Art vs. Power, with souls as well as lives in the balance. Long after reading the book the artworks both human and supernatural (for so they appeared to me, the City making it's own evanescent art) described within its pages stayed with me, making me look at familiar surroundings in new ways.

Pat Murphy works at the Exploratorium, a place where science, science fiction and art all intersect, and she mentions her work there as a big influence on this story. It shows; these are not anguished artists suffering in their attics, but artists as engineers — observing reality and changing it.

Murphy is one of our most important local SF authors. Whether you’ve read her work or not you’ve probably felt her influence. She is one of the founding mothers of the Tiptree award and has taught writing at Stanford and UC Santa Cruz as well as at the Clarion West writer’s workshop, teaching new authors such as current Hugo nominee David Levine and Campbell Award winner Nalo Hopkinson. She has won a slew of awards herself, including the Nebula and Sturgeon. And she isn’t just busy in the genre either; she writes children’s science books for the Exploratorium, and along with Paul Doherty she co-writes a very entertaining science column for F&SF.

A few years ago she teamed up with Lisa Goldstein and Michaela Roessner to overcome their reluctance to self-promote and also to bring former SF readers back into the fold. They call themselves the Brazen Hussies.

http://www.brazenhussies.net/murphy/
Comic-Con: The Mother of All Cons

Photos and Text By Dr. Noe
Staff Writer

I survived my fourth year of Comic-Con, barely. Not because the con itself wore me out but the trip home was a bit arduous. Not the driving, but before getting out of the greater San Diego area I passed six accidents – three of them within a mile of each other.

But, that’s not why you’re here.

Comic-Con (July 20-23) is the mother of all cons. People begin saving for the next year immediately after the current. And for good reason.

Outside of all the booths full of comics, toys, weapons, and art, there are the very coveted con exclusives that set collectors’ souls afire, and put pangs in their wallets. And that’s how each year begins.

Though the con officially didn’t begin until Thursday for most of the populace, those with full memberships are graced with a three-hour preview of the main convention floor. From 6-9 Wednesday the hall is more abuzz with activity than its actual first day, as collectors flitter from booth to booth seeking the coveted treasures of the con.

Some of the cooler exclusives included Vincent Price as The Professor from Edward Scissorhands and a 12-inch deluxe Evil Monkey from Family Guy by Mezco, Hikaru’s VF- from Macross by Toynami, and a Pirates of the Caribbean: Dead Man’s Chest Cannibal Jack Sparrow by NECA, to name a few. But all the major companies from Hasbro to Mattel had a slew of exclusives set to empty collectors’ wallets.

Comic-Con, while the largest con, still starts off with a bit of a slow spell, but quickly gets into full swing as conventioneers

Agent Smith Versus Doctor Who were a few exceptions to both.

Thursday’s can’t miss panel for me was Animaniacs, which has finally been released on DVD (buy it now!). The panel included Jess Harnel (Wakko), Rob Paulsen (Yakko, Pinky & Dr. Scratchensniff), and Maurice LaMarche (The Brain), who shared some of their favorite episodes (Rob and Maurice’s was the Pinky & the Brain Christmas Special), did some great bits from the show, and showed some of the special features from the DVD. Being a huge fan of the show, it was great to see this panel, especially after talking with Rob Paulsen at last year’s Anime Overdose in San Francisco about the show and how both of us wanted the DVD.

Friday was a great costuming day as my new and improved Joker finally made its grand scale debut. Again, more violence in pictures ensued as various heroes thought they could best the clown prince. During the wanderings of the day (which reminds me, wear comfortable shoes whether or not you’re in costume, unless you like pain), I came across a wonderful group costuming as the 60s'-style Batman and Robin, including Catwoman and Batgirl. The best thing about this group was that their Batman really sounded like Adam West! This also started the group costuming as I ran into not only another Joker, a Poison Ivy, and a Bane, but had my own little Bat Villain group to walk around with later in the day.
Star Wars Cantina Band

Panels that interested me were again kind of scarce except for the Gotham Public Works group. For the uninitiated: They are a group of friends that dress as heroes and villains (more so the latter) and that’s it. While their costumes and characterization is great, I did find the panel lacked a bit on the informative side. All they talked about was mostly getting into character and picking the right character for you (which are important), but nothing about their costuming at all. Most of them don’t actually do any of their own costuming. But it was still cool to see them and hear some of their anecdotes.

One of the highlights of Saturday was to meet Matt Groening again. He was signing at the Bongo Comics booth. Unfortunately, I got to the Simpsons panel late and the doors were closed. This tends to be a problem for Comic-Con all around. For the panels and signings you really want to see, chances are there are a couple hundred other people who want to see the same thing. Thus, you must get to where you’re going early, 30 minutes to an hour sometimes, otherwise you risk missing out. This is where planning is very essential, as is deciding what you can and cannot miss at the con. The fact that there’s usually last minute additions adds more chaos to the mix.

After washing the whiteface and green hair off, it was time for some nightlife. A large group of my friends and I decided to meet at a place called the Yard House where we waited forever to get service that never came. So our meal was a wonderful late night at Baja Fresh. After which I did a photo shoot for some friends who wanted some pictures in their Preacher costumes.

My Saturday had started out pretty much shot, as the costume I had hoped and prayed for (not to mention spent a year and a lot of money on) did not make it in time to wear. So, it turned into an all Browncoat day, which isn't bad. By now, most of the free world knows what Browncoats are, but if you don’t, we are the fans of Joss Whedon’s Firefly/Serenity, and at the rate the costumers are growing, we will probably be giving the 501st Stormtrooper legion a run for their money any day now. Saturday again was a lackluster day panel-wise, although it’s probably best to spend a good portion of it in panels as the dealer’s room gets so crowded you can barely move at times. However, certain things make this mass worth it.

After waiting in line at the Marvel booth for two hours I got to meet Joss Whedon! Our Browncoat pal, Ray, had a replica of Mal’s duster and gave it to Joss, who was practically swimming in it. This was quite a thrill as I was probably the last Firefly fan left who hadn’t met him. And, for the first time in the years she’s attended Comic-Con, Elvira was there dressed as Elvira!

Saturday night is the big Masquerade, which I usually never miss, however there was a showing of Done the Impossible, the story of how the fans of Firefly got the movie Serenity made. For as many people as the Masquerade attracts, Done the Impossible still filled a fairly large ballroom, and ended with time left to catch most of the Masquerade participants in the photo area before awards were doled out.

Some of the great costumes included the Cantina Band from Star Wars: A New Hope, the Corpse Bride, Davey Jones, and someone was actually Scott Bernard’s VF-6 Alpha Fighter from Robotech. Again, I didn’t get to see most of it and even the party scene around the Masquerade and afterwards was a bit more subdued than years past.

Apart from all the panels and stars there was also plenty to see around the hall. Marvel had several renditions of Spider-Man hanging about. DC Comics had a huge Batman high on a rooftop. But by far the best was the Lego display of a full-sized, completely-made-of-Legos Batman. In addition they had an entire Gotham cityscape on display for ogling.

There was one factor that altered my experience in various ways. This is the first year I’ve attended with a girlfriend (yes, my own). It wasn’t bad; in fact Kelly willingly volunteered her services as swag-toter to keep my costumes all accurate-like. This also made me feel more obligated to make sure she was enjoying herself, not that I had to, however this was one of the first cons she’d attended (she’s done cons before, but she’s usually behind the scenes – boy, is her world in for some changin’). It does also alter the dynamic of when to eat, what to see, which of the several rows to walk down, but nothing that made me want to change it.

And finally, Sunday, the coma day, almost. Things really wind down as last-minute deals are made and attendees begin their pilgrimage home. We left about noon as there, again, was really nothing exciting enough to keep us around until 5 p.m. when the con actually ended.

However, next year things, as always, will be a bit different. As always, regardless of the seeming lack of things to do, there still was plenty to keep me occupied; I just hope next year has a bit more activity to keep me going throughout the day.
If You’re Going to San Francisco

With the announced folding of Emerald City, we here at SF/SF thought it would be nice to run one of Cheryl Morgan’s early pieces from EmCit that happened to be about her first visit to our lovely City.

By Cheryl Morgan
First Appeared in Emerald City Issue 5- January 1996

Well it was hardly the weather or time of year for flowers in my hair, but there are few cities in the world that bring music to mind as readily as San Francisco. Vienna, perhaps, or Liverpool, but both for what was written there rather than what was written about them. Is San Francisco really that wonderful, that romantic, that laid back? Of course not, it is a real city, but it is a pretty special one for all that.

LA is a great big freeway…

My first ever trip to the USA began with a short stopover in Los Angeles to change planes. I did not see Hollywood. I did see an awful lot of cars. Coming in low over the city, the one thing that stands out is the succession of huge five and seven lane highways scything their way through the suburbs, each one infested with an army of automobiles. And in the airport too, as soon as you step out of the terminal buildings, cars everywhere. Compared to slow, sleepy Melbourne, Los Angeles is hell on wheels.

I must admit the poor city didn’t get much of a chance. I didn’t leave the airport, but I did spend 2 hours longer there than expected due to air traffic delays. They, of course, were all San Francisco’s fault, but I was sat in LA, fed up and starving. Eventually I decided I would just have to start my visit in the most American way possible, and went and bought a McDonalds.

All the leaves are brown, and the sky is grey…

Coming into San Francisco, I could have been forgiven for thinking that the plane had taken a wrong turning and ended up at Heathrow by mistake. The colour of the fog was decidedly London-like. SFO, I gather, suffers a lot from the weather. It even has a bar called The Fog Bank. But we got down OK, and once more I was surprised by America and cars. You want a cab to the city, thirty-five... bucks; you want to go cheap, share a stretch limo with half a dozen other folk and you can get there in luxury for ten.

And so you go, up another enormous freeway, on the wrong side of the road, past The Park formerly known as Candlestick (and still so called on all the maps and road signs), and through South San Francisco which, Hollywood-like, proclaims its name on a hillside with the added epithet, the industrial city. It is an accurate claim. Here, beautiful, romantic San Francisco looks suspiciously like the sort of place you would find the meanest Shadowrunners.

Such a lovely place…

It doesn’t last. Soon you are into the city proper and experiencing a delightful confection of 1930s nostalgia. Is San Francisco a theme park disguised as a city? At times you could be forgiven for thinking so. The restored art deco trolleybuses are the major culprits: haunting Market Street, the ghosts of public transport past are a constant reminder that things are not quite when they should be. But for me the crowning glory is the Marriott hotel. Imagine, if you will, a 39 storey skyscraper with a gently cascading summit. Now switch into art deco mode and apply the classic segmented hemisphere style - the sort of thing you see on the front of old radios. Use it for the windows on the main and subsidiary peaks. Finally, take yourself to the top floor, given over entirely to a bar. On either side, the largest of those windows give a panoramic vista over the city. To one side, on a good day, the Golden Gate in the distance; to the other, a magnificent view of the equally stunning Oakland bridge. Spectacular.

Down in the crowded bars, out for a good time…

Of course one of the things that San Francisco is most famous for is restaurants. With only a few days to explore, and poor Kevin having a nasty stomach bug, I had no chance of making a thorough survey. In particular I was sorry to miss out on the Stinking Rose, a garlic lover’s restaurant where the few dishes on the menu marked with a V are those deemed safe for vampires. But what I tried I very much enjoyed, both for the settings and the food. I went to John’s Grill, famous for having been featured in The Maltese Falcon, and Max’s Diner, a classic American café with a soda fountain and juke box terminals on every table. I also had one of the best Chinese meals I have ever eaten, and have discovered real Mexican food, as opposed to the tepid stuff you get outside California. If I have any complaint at all it concerns the mountainous quantities that US restaurants serve you. No wonder so many Americans are horizontally challenged.

Don’t you remember, we built this city…

On the San Andreas fault.

It was so easy to forget. In amongst those magnificent, arrogant buildings, it is hard to believe that the whole edifice could come crashing down at any moment. Of course it could. The client I was working for had their staff spread through a number of temporary homes whilst their main office, damaged in an earthquake two years ago, was completely refurbished and strengthened. But I now understand why people continue to live there, despite the obvious dangers. I’ve had the good fortune to visit two of the world’s most beautiful cities: San Francisco and Sydney. One has earthquakes, the other has poisonous spiders. Give me the earthquakes any day.
July 31, 2006

Trey Haddad, President
Chris Garcia, Vice-President
Dave Gallaher, Treasurer
Galen Tripp, Sergeant at Arms
Barbara Johnson-Haddad, Secretary

Began 8:00.

18 people attended.

Secretary’s report: the minutes of meeting 835 were accepted as ‘ice-cream-alicious.’

Treasurer’s report was that we took in around $70.00 last week between the regular and party jars.

We established a party jar.

The VP reported that there’s a new issue of ‘Drink Tank’ out on efanzine.com, a new SF/SF & remember to buy ‘Chris for TAFF’ stuff at cafepress with Frank Wu artwork on it ['why should America suffer alone'] & Frank’s ‘Guidilon’ won ‘Best in Show’ and ‘Best Animated Short’ at Conestoga.

The President had nothing fannish to report.

The Hollister in ‘08 bid committee reported that the bid now has a sub rosa theme song ‘My House’ by Rosemary Clooney ['finally a bid with enough fiber']; ‘not an elevator in sight’; ‘no wait for the elevator’; ‘no broken elevators’].

The Sports Committee admits defeat in regards to organizing a SJ Giants outing due to illness and his hectic work schedule.

Announcements
Ken announced that the Cinema San Pedro movie for this Wednesday night will be ‘The Poseidon Adventure.’

Dave C announced that Daniel & Kelly say hello & gave their proxy report that ‘Santa Claus rules us all,’ plus that ‘Greetings from Lake Wu’ will be a special edition book released at Worldcon [Frank = ‘larger and in color’].

Kevin S announced that you have until midnight to vote on the Hugos & there are ‘Emerald Cities’ in the room & to read Cheryl’s blog.

Chris announced that Sunday, August 13 is the premiere of Jeff VanderMeer’s ‘Shriek’ at the DNA Lounge & that Chris will be speaking there for SF/SF.

Reviews:
Joanie reviewed Traverse City, Michigan, as a vacation spot that is usually cool, the indoor pools are nice & the shops are pleasantly quaint - very nice to visit.

Ken reviewed Las Vegas as ‘a way to escape the heat’ [Dave C = ‘it’s a dry hell’] & Ken saw Blue Men Group as very funny, very loud & very bizarre - a great show & then he reviewed ‘Love’ as the greatest thing ever produced - worth his air fare, accommodations, food and the ticket to get in & he reviewed ‘Tempest’ in the park as he enjoyed it too.

Chris reviewed the greatest film ever ['again’] ‘Hollywood’s Top Secret Movie Studio’ as fascinating and great & funny things were spoken of [including about Chris’s driving] & I agreed with Frank that ‘The Hellstrom Chronicles’ was the best bug movie ever.

We auctioned off stuff, books for $0.25, $1.00, $0.50, $2.00, $4.00, $0.25, $0.25, $0.75, a Tshirt for $0.25; a poster for $0.10 & a box of movie trailers for $0.25.

We adjourned at 9:22 pm.

And the rumor of the week was ‘Perverts are ideal for curling.’
August 7, 2006

Trey Haddad, President
Chris Garcia, Vice-President
Dave Gallaher, Treasurer
Galen Tripp, Sergeant at Arms
Barbara Johnson-Haddad, Secretary

Began 8:00 [with cleaner hands].

16 people attended.

Secretary’s report: the minutes of meeting 834 were accepted as ‘phacetious.’

Treasurer’s report was that last week we took in $21.25 in the regular and $16.10 in the party jar - and that Vinticon’s hotel needs an overflow hotel & since the ghost won’t pay for a membership, the ghost is not wanted.

We established a party jar.

The VP reported, ‘I’m sorry, what’ - then that there’s a new ‘Drink Tank’ out & Jeff VanderMeer’s ‘Shriek’ will be shown on Aug 20 at 12 Galaxies & he had a date on Friday [that did not end up in a park] & the ‘Match Game After Dark’ is on for Worldcon - after the Hugos.

The President welcomed Linda -er- Lisa & Frank Wu paid for her BASFA membership.

There was a motion to rename Frank ‘Pacolon’ for the duration of the meeting that passed - ‘everyone to Frank.’

There was a motion to rename Trey ‘Chafing dish’ for the duration of the meeting but it was objected to consideration.

There was a motion to rename ‘Linda’ as our Ambassador to Chatsworth [Calif] for the duration of the meeting - and then name Lisa Ambassador to Chatsworth that passed.

The Hollister in ‘08 bid committee reported that the complete bound edition of Pacheco Pass PRs 1-6 has been published & PR6 is out.

Announcements
Ken announced that the Cinema San Pedro movie for this Wednesday night will be ‘Galaxy Quest.’

Andy announced that CostumeCon 27 has received its ribbons [and they look GOOD].

[evil] Kevin announced that Conrad’s underbite is repaired & he’s working on getting a bit of tail.

Dave C announced that there’s a bunch of stuff on the back table - including the new Cargo Cult & there’s a convention coming up a few weekends from now.

Reviews:
Harold reviewed the world’s worst umpiring in the history of baseball - in the 9th inning at PacBell Park where the umpire threw Barry out [but it did help to get the fans in the game] & reviewed the greatest discovery in the history of diet snacks division - Orville Redenbacher Kettlecorn minipacks.

Chris reviewed his date as very enjoyable & reviewed ‘Hollywood Babylon’ as beautiful and ‘just made me smile’ but that ‘Hollywood Babylon Unraveled’ was the greatest book ever written & just makes him feel good.

Lynn reviewed the ‘Today Show’ as an example of incredible interviewing & that Al Rocher is brilliant.

Dave C reviewed ‘Collapse’ by Jered Diamond as very thick reading - dealing with things that have gone wrong with civilizations that brought about their downfall & reviewed the ‘greatest website ever’ as www.oddballcomics.com.

We auctioned off stuff, birthday auctioned off Harold to Chris for $26.50; birthday auctioned off Warren to Lynn for $10.50; birthday auctioned off Lynn to Warren for $10.50; auctioned off books for $0.75, $0.50, $0.60; a magazine for $1.00 & a bound copy of Pacheco Pass PRs 1-6 for $6.50.

We adjourned at 9:21 pm.
And the rumor of the week was ‘837 has been declared a prime number by the Kansas State board of education.’
Bay Area Fannish Calendar

While some effort (OK, OK, damn little effort) is made to verify event listings, please check before attending, as events are sometimes cancelled or times and locations changed.

New listings are in red. Ongoing events are toward the back.

Wednesday, August 16
Ghostbusters (1984)
San Pedro Square
San Jose
Dusk (pre-show begins at 8 p.m.)
Free
www.cinequest.org
Bring your own lawn chair. Cinequest presents a movie under the stars, with special features TBA.

Wednesday, August 16
Brains (Send More Cops!)
Space Gallery
1141 Polk Street
San Francisco
7 p.m.
415-377-3325
Reception and art exhibition subtitled “Zombies both visceral and subtle,” curated by Archie McKay and Kottie Paloma.

Wednesday-Saturday, August 16-19
La Jetée (1962)
Humanist Hall
390 27th Street
Oakland
7:30 p.m.
$5 suggested donation
Chris Marker’s avant garde Sci Fi film composed entirely of still images.

Wednesday-Saturday, August 16-19
The Capp Street Aeronautical and Lighter Than Air Space Program (Reaching Towards Heaven)
The LAB
2948 16th Street
San Francisco
1-6 p.m.
Art installation by Kal Spelletich, whose kinetic art-bots are controlled by (or temporarily control) the viewer in innovative ways. Kinetic sculpture and robotics workshop Saturday, 2-5 p.m.(call 415-864-8855 to register).

Thursday, August 17
Casmic Third Thursday
California Academy of Sciences
875 Howard Street
San Francisco
5-9 p.m.
$5
calacademy.org/events/thirdthursdays/
At this month’s “Third Thursday” cocktail party at the Academy, take a stroll through the universe by visiting the “Xtreme Life” exhibit. Space Cowboy DJs Mancub, 8ball, and more will be laying down stellar beats and the cash bar will be mixing up out-of-this-world drinks.

Thursday-Saturday, August 17-19
ORBIT (notes from the edge of forever)
Intersection for the Arts
446 Valencia Street
San Francisco
8 p.m.
$9-$20 sliding scale
Dance theater performance by Erica Shuch Performance Project explores the search for extra-terrestrial life, concepts of faith and belief, and the human need for contact and connection with the universe.

Thursday-Saturday, August 17-19
Super Vision
Yerba Buena Center for the Arts
701 Mission Street
San Francisco
8 p.m.
$30 www.ybca.org
The Builders Association and dbox present a multi-media theater piece on a very large scale, exploring life and privacy in the data society.

Friday, August 18
Midnight Movie:
Snakes on a Plane (2006)
Camera 7 Cinema
1875 S. Bascom Avenue
Campbell
$7

August 18-September 23
TROG!
Theatre Rhinoceros
2926 16th Street
San Francisco
8 p.m. (Sundays at 3 p.m.)
$20 www.makeitsoproductions.org
Make It So Productions’ parody of the 1970 British B-horror film Trog, which starred Joan Crawford in her final role.

Saturday, August 19
San Francisco Underground Short Film Festival
Bridge Theatre
3010 Geary Blvd.
San Francisco
8 p.m. (Sundays at 3 p.m.)
$10
Hosted by Peaches Christ; list of films at www.peacheschrist.com.

Sunday, August 20
Fahrenheit 451 (1966)
Humanist Hall
390 27th Street
Oakland
4 p.m.
$5 suggested donation
510-393-5685
Truffaut’s film based on Bradbury’s novel.
Thursday, August 24
Repo Man (1984)
Parkway Speakeasy Theater
1834 Park Blvd.
Oakland
9:15 p.m.
$5

Friday, August 25
Midnight Movie:
Tron (1982)
Camera 7 Cinema
1875 S. Bascom Avenue
Campbell
$7

Friday, August 25
Lunar Lounge Express
Chabot Space Science Center
10000 Skyline Blvd.
Oakland
8-11 p.m.
$15, $10 for students
510-336-7373
Party under the stars with music, food and beverage tastings, Sonic Vision planetarium show, and telescope viewing (weather permitting).

Saturday, August 26
Author: Robert Farrell
Barnes & Noble
2550 Taylor Street
San Francisco
415-292-6762

Saturday, August 26
Midnight Movie:
Tron (1982)
Camera 12 Cinema
201 South Second Street
San Jose
$7

Saturday, August 26
Film Night in the Park:
Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets (2002)
Creek Park
San Anselmo
8 p.m.
Suggested donation: $5 adults, $3 children

Saturday-Sunday, August 26-27
Golden Gate Renaissance Festival
Speedway Meadow
Golden Gate Park
San Francisco
www.sffaire.com
10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Saturday
10 a.m. - 5 p.m. Sunday
$15
Jugglers, food, handcrafted items, jousting, sword fighting demonstrations. Rapier tournament on Saturday.

Sunday, August 27
Bad Movie Night: Orca (1977)
The Dark Room Theatre

Friday, September 1
Midnight Movie:
Enter the Dragon (1973)
Camera 7 Cinema
1875 S. Bascom Avenue
Campbell
$7

Friday-Monday, September 1-4
ConQuest SF
San Francisco Airport Marriott
1800 Old Bayshore Hwy.
Burlingame
$50, one-day pass $30
www.avalonconventions.com/conquestsft
Gaming convention includes role-playing, miniatures, card, classic, board, collectibles, historicals, RPGA.

Saturday, September 2
Midnight Movie:
Enter the Dragon (1973)
Camera 12 Cinema
201 South Second Street
San Jose
$7

Saturday, September 2
Captain Morgan’s Privateers (We Ain’t Pirates No More) Ball

2263 Mission Street
San Francisco
8 p.m.
$5
PEERS Event
Masonic Lodge
100 N. Ellsworth
San Mateo
$15 in advance (by August 26), $20 at the door
Dance lesson at 7:15 p.m., dancing begins at 8.

Sunday, September 3
Sac-Con
Scottish Rite Center
6151 H Street
Sacramento
10 a.m.-4 p.m.
$5
Comic, toy and anime show, usually has an anime costume contest.

Wednesday, September 6
Author: Robin Hobb
Borderlands Books
866 Valencia Street
San Francisco
7 p.m.
Free
www.borderlands-books.com

September 6-17
San Francisco Fringe Festival Various Venues
San Francisco
Some promising-sounding plays this year include The Thrilling Adventures Of Elvis In Space 2 (the continuing exploits of Elvis, his lovable sidekick Stevie, and the Robot Charlie Hodge), and Yorick & Co. (struggling theater company’s production of Hamlet features its recently-deceased patron in the role of Yorick’s skull). Full schedule at www.sffringe.org.

Thursday, September 7
Flash Gordon (1980)
Natural City (2003)
Garuda (2003)
Preview Room
Variety Children’s Charity
582 Market Street
San Francisco
7 p.m.
Free
Borderlands Books and Variety Children’s Charity invite you to an international Sci Fi triple feature. Refreshments will be available for purchase, and your purchase supports Variety’s efforts to aid disabled, disadvantaged, abused and neglected kids. Doors open at 6:30.

September 7-October 1
Woman in Black (A Ghost Play)
Pacific Rep
Golden Bough Theatre
West side of Monte Verde between 8th and 9th
Carmel-by-the-Sea
www.pacrep.org
Local production of the play that’s been running in London for 16 years. Highly recommended by Jack Avery.

Friday-Sunday, September 8-10
Creation Salutes Star Trek: The 40th Anniversary Celebration
DoubleTree Hotel
Sacramento
2001 Point West Way
Sacramento
$399-$90; one-day passes available from $50 www.creationent.com/cal/stsac.htm
Creation brings William Shatner and Leonard Nimoy to Sacramento.

Saturday, September 9
Author: Ray Garton
Borderlands Books
866 Valencia Street
San Francisco
3 p.m.
Free
www.borderlands-books.com

Saturday, September 9
Film Night in the Park:
The Birds (1963)
Union Square
San Francisco
8 p.m.
Suggested Donation: $5 adults, $3 children

Saturday, September 9
Other Magazine Presents
Writers with Drinks
The Make-Out Room
3225 22nd Street
San Francisco
7:30 p.m.
$3-$5 sliding scale
With Daniel Alarcon, Mark Budz, Eric Spitznagel, and Sparky.

Saturday-Sunday, September 9-10
Bay Area UFO Expo
Hyatt Regency Santa Clara
5101 Great America Parkway
Santa Clara
$155; one-day and single-workshop passes available www.thebayareaufexpo.com
8th annual gathering devoted to UFOs, alien encounters, crop circles, reptoids, conspiracies, commerce.

Saturday-Sunday, September 9-10
Northern California Renaissance Faire
Casa de Fruta
100031 Pacheco Pass Highway
Hollister
$22
www.norcalrenfaire.com
Hearty ale, fine foods, handmade crafts, new Tournament of Horses.

Monday, September 11
Ask a Scientist:
A Cleaner Future for Cars
The Canvas Gallery
1200 9th Avenue
San Francisco
6:30 p.m.
Free

Tuesday, September 12
Zatoichi (2003)
Parkway Speakeasy Theater
1834 Park Blvd.
Oakland
9:15 p.m.
$7
“Beat” Takeshi’s reinterpretation of the classic blind Samurai story, with tap-dancing. A benefit for Suigetsukan Martial Arts School; with live onstage demonstration.

Friday, September 15
Author: Lara Parker
The Booksmith
1644 Haight Street
San Francisco
7 p.m.
Free

Friday and Saturday, September 15-16
Music of the Spheres
Lick Observatory
Mt. Hamilton Road
San Jose
www.ucolick.org/public/music.html
8 p.m.
$40-$150
Part of the Observatory’s Summer concert series, featuring the music of guitarists Daniel Roest and Muriel Anderson and a talk by astronomers Geoff Marcy (Friday) and Alex Filippenko (Saturday), followed by telescope viewing (weather permitting). Doors open at 7:30.

Saturday, September 16
Bay Area Games Day
Los Altos Public Library
13 S. San Antonio Road
Los Altos
10 a.m.
$1
Regular event featuring German-style strategy boardgames like Settlers of Catan, Avalon Hill-type multiplayer games, lots of card games, and historical board wargames.

Saturday-Sunday, September 16-17
4th Annual Japantown Anime Faire
Japan Center
1581 Webster Street
San Francisco
$25 (by September 1), $35 at the door, single day passes available registration@project760.com
Screenings, live performances, artist alley, swap meet, gaming, cosplay contest.

Saturday-Sunday, September 16-17
Northern California Renaissance Faire
Casa de Fruta
100031 Pacheco Pass Highway
Hollister
$22
www.norcalrenfaire.com
Hearty ale, fine foods, handmade crafts, new Tournament of Horses.

Saturday-Sunday, September 16-17
Vintage Fashion Expo
Masonic Center
1111 California Street
San Francisco
Sat. 10:30-6, Sun. 11-5 $10 www.vintageexpo.com

Sunday, September 17
Twenty Epics
Borderlands Books
866 Valencia Street
San Francisco
3 p.m.
Free
www.borderlands-books.com
Appearance/signing by authors Marcus Ewert, Tim Pratt, and the collection’s editor Susan Marie Groppi.

Sunday, September 17
How Berkeley Can You Be Parade
Berkeley
11 a.m.
Starts at the corner of California and University Avenue.
A Klingon contingent is again planning to march. Members of the 501st Legion also usually show up. In addition, there will be a bunch of mundane weirdos there.

Wednesday, September 20
Author: Kelly Link
The Booksmith
1644 Haight Street
San Francisco
7 p.m.
Free

Friday, September 22
Film Night in the Park: Ghostbusters (1984)
Commons Park
10 Ross Commons
Ross
8 p.m.
Suggested donation: $5 adults, $3 children

Friday-Sunday, September 22-24
Browncoat Ball
Marines Memorial Club and Hotel
609 Sutter Street
San Francisco
$150
www.browncoatball.com
Join the SF Browncoats who are sponsoring this year’s Browncoat Ball. Two dinner and dance events, a boat tour of the bay and a tour of Chinatown are planned, plus lots of Serenity/Firefly activities. The event is themed around the ball from the Firefly episode “Shindig.” (Yes, that’s the one with Kaylee’s dress in it.)

Saturday, September 23
Tachyon Publications Anniversary Party
Borderlands Books
866 Valencia Street
San Francisco
2 p.m.
Free
www.borderlands-books.com

Saturday-Sunday, September 23-24
Northern California Renaissance Faire
Casa de Fruta
100031 Pacheco Pass Highway
Hollister
$22
www.norcalrenfaire.com
Hearty ale, fine foods, handmade crafts, new Tournament of Horses.

Sunday, September 24
Bad Movie Night: Incubus (1965)
The Dark Room Theatre
2263 Mission Street
San Francisco
8 p.m.
$5
1965 fantasy-horror film starring William
Shatner; in Esperanto with English subtitles.
Really.

Friday, September 29
Lunar Lounge Express
Chabot Space Science Center
10000 Skyline Blvd.
Oakland
8-11 p.m.
$15, $10 for students
510-336-7373
Party under the stars with music, food and beverage tastings, Sonic Vision planetarium show, and telescope viewing (weather permitting).

Saturday-Sunday, September 30-October 1
Northern California Renaissance Faire
Casa de Fruta
100031 Pacheco Pass Highway
Hollister
$22
www.norcalrenfaire.com
Hearty ale, fine foods, handmade crafts, new Tournament of Horses.

Tuesday, October 3
Author: Neil Gaiman
Kepler’s Books
1010 El Camino Real
Menlo Park
8-11:30 p.m.
7:30 p.m.
Free

Wednesday, October 4
Author: Alexandra Sokoloff
Borderlands Books
866 Valencia Street
San Francisco
7 p.m.
Free
www.borderlands-books.com

Thursday, October 5
Thrillville’s Zombie-Rama: Children Shouldn’t Play With Dead Things (1972) and Burial Ground (1981)
Parkway Speakeasy Theater
1834 Park Blvd.
Oakland
7:30 p.m.
$8
Hosted by Speakeasy Theaters programmer and local lounge lizard Will “the Thrill” Viharo and his lovely wife and stage assistant, Monica, Tiki Goddess. Guest appearance by Cinema Insomnia host Mr. Lobo; live theremin by Robert Silverman.

Friday-Sunday, October 6-8
SiliCon
DoubleTree Hotel
2050 Gateway Place
San Jose
www.siliconventions.com
$35 (until August 31), $45 at the door
Guest of Honor: Robert Meyer Burnett
Special Guests: Mark Bode, Steve Englehart
Media-oriented general SF con; this year’s theme is “Comics On and Off the Page.” Art show, dealer’s room, panels, costume contest, more.

Saturday, October 7
Author: Kage Baker
Borderlands Books
866 Valencia Street
San Francisco
3 p.m.
Free
www.borderlands-books.com

Saturday, October 7

Author: Glen Hirshberg

Borderlands Books
866 Valencia Street
San Francisco
5 p.m.
Free
www.borderlands-books.com

Saturday, October 7

Dickens Fair Preview Ball

PEERS Event
Masonic Lodge
100 N. Ellsworth
San Mateo
$15 (by September 24), $20 at the door
Dance lesson at 7 p.m., dancing begins at 8.

Saturday, October 7

Film Night in the Park: Young Frankenstein (1974)

Dolores Park
San Francisco
8 p.m.
Suggested donation: $5 adults, $3 children

Saturday-Sunday, October 7-8

Northern California Renaissance Faire

Casa de Fruta
100031 Pacheco Pass Highway
Hollister
$22
www.norcalrenfaire.com
Hearty ale, fine foods, handmade crafts, new Tournament of Horses.

Monday, October 9

Author: Spider Robinson

The Booksmith
1644 Haight Street
San Francisco
7 p.m.
Free

Tuesday, October 9

Nosferatu (1922)

Parkway Speakeasy Theater
1834 Park Blvd.
Oakland
9:15 p.m.
$7
Max Schreck as the granddaddy of all movie vampires, with an original live soundtrack performed by the Devil Music Ensemble.

Tuesday, October 10

Gremlins (1984)

Parkway Speakeasy Theater
1834 Park Blvd.
Oakland
9:15 p.m.
$7
A benefit for Just Cause Oakland.

Saturday-Sunday, October 14-15

Northern California Renaissance Faire

Casa de Fruta
100031 Pacheco Pass Highway
Hollister
$22
www.norcalrenfaire.com
Hearty ale, fine foods, handmade crafts, new Tournament of Horses.

Sunday, October 15

St. Sebastian’s Archery Hunt

Society for Creative Anachronism Event
King’s Mountain Archery Range
Huddart County Park
Redwood City
10 a.m.-sundown
$9 (members $6)
www.thewestermark.org/events.html
A hunt in the forest, to be followed by a baronial feast.

Wednesday, October 18

Femspec Magazine

Borderlands Books
866 Valencia Street
San Francisco
7 p.m.
Free
www.borderlands-books.com
Editor Batya Weinbaum and contributor Ardys De Luis discuss Femspec, an interdisciplinary feminist journal dedicated to critical and creative works in the realms of SF, fantasy, magical realism, surrealism, myth, folklore, and other supernatural genres. www.femspec.org

Thursday, October 19
Thrillville’s Monster-rama:
The Werewolf vs. The Vampire Women (1971) and Beast of The Yellow Night (1971)
Parkway Speakeasy Theater
1834 Park Blvd.
Oakland
7:30 p.m.
$10
Hosted by Speakeasy Theaters programmer and local lounge lizard Will “the Thrill” Viharo and his lovely wife and stage assistant, Monica, Tiki Goddess. With guest appearances by Son of Ghoul, Cinema Insomnia host Mr. Lobo, and the Devil-ettes.

Friday-Sunday, October 20-22
Yaoi-Con
Westin and Clarion Hotels
San Francisco Airport
www.yaoicon.com
$50 (by September 20), $60 at the door
Male/male anime and manga fest with art show, manga reading room, dealer’s room, bishounen auction. (For a definition of yaoi, see www.yaoicon.com/whatisyaoi.html or Andy Trembley’s review in SF/SF #11.)

Saturday, October 21
Other Magazine Presents
Writers with Drinks
The Make-Out Room
3225 22nd Street
San Francisco
7:30 p.m.
$3-$5 sliding scale
With Frank Portman and Lisa Goldstein.

Saturday-Sunday, October 21-22
Folsom Renaissance Faire Lions Park
Natoma & Stafford Streets
Folsom $12 www.folsomfaire.com
Dancers, bards, puppets, food, more.

Friday, October 27
Thrillville’s Halloween Spookylau:
The Crawling Eye (1958)
Copia
500 First Street
Napa
8 p.m.
$6
Hosted by Speakeasy Theaters programmer and local lounge lizard Will “the Thrill” Viharo and his lovely wife and stage assistant, Monica, Tiki Goddess. Guest appearance by Cinema Insomnia host Mr. Lobo.

Sunday, October 22
3DBCon
Three Dollar Bill Café
LGBT Center
1800 Market Street
San Francisco
10 a.m.-10 p.m.
$10 www.threedollarbill.com/3DBcon/
One-day gaming convention; gamers need to register by October 13.

Thursday, October 26
Army of Darkness (1993)
Parkway Speakeasy Theater
1834 Park Blvd.
Oakland
9:15 p.m.
$5
Sacramento’s Star Trek-themed rock band performs such hits as “Red Alert” and “Rage Against the Federation.” With The Brodys.

Tuesday, October 31
The Monster of Phantom Lake (2006)
Parkway Speakeasy Theater
1834 Park Blvd.
Oakland
9:15 p.m.
$5
www.monsterofphantomlake.com
A new indy film pays tribute to the B-horror movies of the 50s.

Friday-Sunday, November 3-5
BASCon
Embassy Suites
250 Gateway Boulevard
South San Francisco
$75 www.bascon.org
The Bay Area Slash Convention returns. Adults only. For all your Kirk/Spock fanfic needs.

Saturday, November 4
Le Bal des Vampires
PEERS Event
Alameda Elks Lodge
2255 Santa Clara Avenue
Alameda
7 p.m.
$15 in advance (by October 28), $20 at the door

Saturday, November 11
Other Magazine Presents Writers with Drinks
The Make-Out Room
3225 22nd Street
San Francisco
7:30 p.m.
$3-$5 sliding scale
Writers: K.E. Silva, Madeleine Robins, and Katie Hafner.

Sunday, November 12
Blind Guardian
The Fillmore
1805 Geary Boulevard
San Francisco
German progressive rock band tours “A Twist in the Myth,” their new album. “They previously did an entire album, ‘Nightside on Middle Earth’ based on Tolkien’s Silmarillion and a song called ‘The Lord of the Rings’ is on an earlier album. Definitely a band heavily influenced by fantasy themes.” – Jack Avery.

Saturday, November 18
Pas D’Armes
Society for Creative Anachronism Event
Elk Glen
Golden Gate Park
San Francisco
Opening ceremonies 11 a.m.

November 24-December 23
Dickens Christmas Fair
Exhibition Hall
The Cow Palace
Daly City
11 a.m.-7 p.m.
$20
www.dickensfair.com
An appallingly exciting experience of no ordinary cleverness. Dickens’ London opens for business the Friday after Thanksgiving and continues weekends through Dec. 23 with gifts, food, costumes, dance parties, & etc. (Free admission during opening weekend for “timeplayers” who have submitted their Victorian personae in advance and arrive in period costume — see website for details.)
Twilight Vixen Revue live on stage.

Sunday, December 10
Sac-Con
Scottish Rite Center
6151 H Street
Sacramento
10 a.m.-4 p.m.
$5
Comic, toy and anime show, usually has an anime costume contest.

Saturday, December 16
Otaku Bowl
Details to follow
Winter edition of the event where bowling, anime and cosplay meet. Video room, costume contest, artist alley/swap meet and random bowling fun.

January 5-7, 2007
Fangoria’s Weekend of Horrors
DoubleTree Hotel
2050 Gateway Place
San Jose
This is a Creation Convention. Guests to include Doug Bradley (Pinhead). Further information will be forthcoming.

January 6, 2007
Victorian 12th Night Ball
PEERS Event
Venue: TBA
8 p.m.

January 13, 2007
Sac-Anime
Scottish Rite Center
6151 H Street
Sacramento
$5 - $10
Anime convention featuring viewing room, art contest, vendor’s room, costume ball, J-pop concert, more.

January 18-22, 2007
Further Confusion 2007
DoubleTree Hotel
2500 Gateway Place
San Jose
$40
The Bay Area’s major Furry con. Art show, dealer’s room, costume contest, more.

February 3, 2007
Gotham City Black and White Ball
PEERS Event
We’re not sure if this is Gotham as in Batman or Gotham as in old New York. With PEERS it could go either way.

February 16-19, 2007
Sac-Con
Scottish Rite Center
6151 H Street
Sacramento
10 a.m.-4 p.m.
$5
Comic, toy and anime show, usually has an anime costume contest.

February 16-19, 2007
DunDraCon
San Ramon Marriott
2600 Bishop Drive
San Ramon
www.dundracon.com
Annual gaming con; details to follow.

March 2-4, 2007
WonderCon
Moscone Center South
747 Howard Street
San Francisco
www.comic-con.org/wc/
Comic book/media convention with anime, summer movie previews, panels, dealers, costume contest, more.

March 2-4, 2007
Consonance
Venue TBD
$45 at the door ($35 until Oct. 31)
www.consonance.org
The annual Bay Area filk convention.

March 11, 2007
Pantheacon
DoubleTree Hotel
2050 Gateway Place
San Jose
Annual Pagan gathering with workshops, lectures, performances, rituals, drumming, dancing, costume contests, and crafts.
Mach 16-18, 2007
Rakkasah West
Richmond Auditorium
403 Civic Center Plaza
Richmond
www.rakkasah.com
Billed as the largest bellydance festival and fantasy bazaar in the world. Details to follow.

March 16-18, 2007
Con-X-treme
DoubleTree Hotel
2050 Gateway Place
San Jose
www.con-x-treme.com
Few details as yet on this con devoted to X-treme anime, science fiction, fantasy, martial arts, and cosplay.

April 7, 2007
Red Carpet Ball
(1930s Hollywood Academy Award Ball)
PEERS Event
No details yet on this dance.

May 5, 2007
Sleeping Beauty’s Christening Fantasy Ball
PEERS Event
No details yet on this dance.

May 25-28, 2007
BayCon
Location TBD
www.baycon.org

$75 ($45 until Aug. 31)
25th Anniversary of the largest annual general SF convention in Northern California. Diverse panels, dealer’s room, art show, masquerade, anime room, hall costumes, gaming, much more.

June 2, 2007
Space Cowboys’ Ball
PEERS Event
No details yet on this dance.

June 30-July 3, 2007
Westercon 60: Gnomeward Bound Marriott San Mateo
1770 South Amphlett Blvd.
San Mateo
spfii.org/westercon60/
Guests of Honor: Tad Williams, Theresa Mather, Christian McGuire
Toastmaster: Jay Lake

August 3-6, 2007
MythCon 38
Clark Kerr Center
2601 Warring Street
Berkeley
www.mythsoc.org
$60, $50 Mythopoeic Society members
The annual Mythopoeic Conference returns to Berkeley with Guests of Honor Ellen Kushner and Delia Sherman.

August 4, 2007
Pride & Prejudice Picnic

PEERS Event
No details yet on this event.

September 1, 2007
Mikado Ball
(A Gilbert and Sullivan Cast Party)
PEERS Event
No details yet on this dance.

October 6, 2007
Edwardian Gothic Ball
PEERS Event
Edwardian as in macabre illustrator Edward Gorey.

November 3, 2007
Le Bal des Vampires
PEERS Event
Gotta love a group that plans this far in advance, particularly since they have a good track record of actually holding their events as scheduled. No further details available yet.

April 25-28, 2008
CostumeCon 26
www.cc26.info
CostumeCon will be coming to Silicon Valley in 2008. Further details to follow.
Ongoing:

Daily

San Francisco Ghost Hunt Walking Tour
Begins: Queen Anne Hotel
1590 Sutter at Octavia
San Francisco
7 p.m. – 10 p.m.
$20 www.sfghosthunt.com

Mondays

Bay Area Science Fiction Association
The Original Hick’ry Pit 980 E. Campbell Ave.
Campbell
8 p.m.
Free
www.basfa.org

Dukefish
Jake’s of Sunnyvale
174 E. Fremont Avenue
Sunnyvale
Gather: 8 p.m., games: 8:30 p.m.
Dukefish is a bunch of people who get together to play board games and, sometimes, bridge every week.

Mondays and Wednesdays

Silicon Valley Boardgamers
Match Play
San Antonio Shopping Center

Wednesdays

Bay Area Role-Playing Society
Go-Getter’s Pizza
1489 Beach Park Boulevard
Foster City
6 p.m.-10 p.m.
www.BayRPS.com
Hosts a weekly game night. For club and game night details email GM@BayRPS.com.

East Bay Strategy Games Club
EndGame
921 Washington
Oakland
7:30 p.m.-11 p.m.
Free
www.michaeldashow.com/eastbaystrategy/home.html

Fridays

SF Games
Muddy’s Coffeehouse
1304 Valencia Street near 24th
San Francisco
7 p.m. to midnight
Free
vax.hanford.org/dk/games
SF Games is a collective name for a bunch of people who get together and play board games and card games every week. Also has a cards night on Tuesdays at Café Macondo, 3159 16th Street between Guerrero and Valencia.

Haunted Haight Walking Tour
Meets at PlanetWeavers/Genesis Store
1573 Haight Street (at Clayton)
San Francisco
7 p.m.-9 p.m.
$20 www.hauntedhaight.com
Reservations required.

Vampire Walking Tour
Meets corner of California and Taylor
San Francisco
8 p.m.
$20
www.sfvampietourt.com
Led by Mina Harker. Tour is cancelled if there is heavy rain.

Saturdays

Rocky Horror Picture Show
Parkway Speakeasy Theater
1834 Park Blvd.
Oakland
Midnight
$6
www.picturepubpizza.com
Barely Legal Productions presents the classic midnight movie every Saturday night. No one under 17 admitted.

Biweekly

PenSFA Party
The Peninsula Science Fantasy Association meets every two weeks for a party at the home of one of their members. They also host parties at local conventions. Email commander@pensfa.org for information on attending.

PenSFA standard party rules: bring something edible or drinkable to share, or pay the host $2. Don’t smoke in the house without checking with the host first. Normal start time is 8 p.m. but may vary depending on the host.

Science Fiction & Fantasy Writers’ Group
Borderlands Books
866 Valencia Street
San Francisco
Meets the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 6 p.m. Contact Jade Livingston at sfscifi@yahoo.com for more information.

Monthly

Dorkbot-SF
Free, donations welcome www.dorkbot.org/dorkbotsf/
Dorkbot hosts regular forums for artists, designers, engineers, students, and other people doing strange things with electricity.

Fantastic Frontiers
www.freewebs.com/fantasticfrontiers/
Social club for Sacramento County Sci Fi/Fantasy fans usually meets the second Saturday of the month. Check website for meeting times and locations.

Foothill Anime
Building 5015, Foothill College
Los Altos Hills
Free
Monthly event where people can get together to watch anime and meet like minded others. Usually meets the first Sunday of every month at noon.

Legion of Rassilon
Carl’s Junior
2551 N. First Street
San Jose
7:30 p.m.
Free
www.legionofrassilon.org
Doctor Who fan group usually meets the fourth Friday of the month: Episodes of Doctor Who, news, discussion of recent movies, and a raffle.

No-Name Anime
Saratoga Library
13650 Saratoga Avenue
Saratoga
Free
www.nnanime.com
Anime screenings usually take place on the second Saturday of the month.

SF Browncoats
Cafe Murano
1777 Steiner Street
San Francisco
Noon
Free
www.sfbrowncoats.com
SF Firefly/Serenity fans usually meet up on the second Saturday of the month.

Silicon Gulch Browncoats
Tied House
954 Villa Street
Mountain View
Noon - 2 p.m.
Free
www.silicongulchbrowncoats.org
Silicon Valley fans of Firefly/Serenity meet up on the first Saturday of the month.

USS Defiance Meeting
Round Table Pizza
Howe Ave. (Near Howe and Arden Ave.)
7 p.m.-10 p.m.
Free
Sacramento’s oldest science fiction group meets the third Friday of the month. Info at www.usdefiance.org.